FROM BEHIND THE LINES:

As the June Workday rolls around, are you trying to find an excuse that would possibly be a halfway reason to miss the workday? Remember the always constant slogan of Cheerful Service and what better way can we help serve our fellow scouts better than by helping to prepare Siouan for summer camp? Of course, there is always the chance for fellowship with our fellow brothers!

Remember the Outstanding District Award. The district Vice-chiefs will report on the number of arrowmen who attends the June 5th workday. So put your best foot forward and help raise the tents for summer camp.

Yours in service,

GOODMAN

It was recently reported in the National Bulletin that Dr. E. Urner Goodman and his wife had suffered an accident. It seems that Dr. Goodman and Louise, his wife, were struck by an auto while visiting in Sarasota, Fla. Dr. Goodman recieved numerous cuts and bruises. Both are recovering nicely at home.

Chanco sent Dr. and Mrs. Goodman a card wishing them a speedy recovery. This is Dr. Goodman's reply to his brothers of Chanco.

CONCLAVE HIGHLIGHTS

Around 10:00 A.M. on Friday, May 15, Chanco's delegates were leaving each of the three districts of the council. They began their seven hour trip which would take them through 3 states and end in the fourth at Sinoquipe Scout Camp.

Upon arriving at Sinoquipe, Chanco's delegates discovered that they were one of the first to arrive. Their guide for the weekend introduced himself and gave them the grand tour of the camp. The rest of Friday was spent getting to know the camp, fellow arrowmen and latter that night vintage movies including the Marx Brothers and Laurel and Hardy.

Delegates rose early for a hardy breakfast after which each delegate had a choice on which training session they would like to attend. Chanco's training session on record keeping was very informative, and it should have been because it was given by our Secretary, Ralph Howell.

After lunch the display "Camping Guides" was erected to be viewed by the judges. Then came the volleyball tournament.

Chanco was up against Blue Heron in the first round. Blue Heron proved to be the first team to fall to Chanco's rising strenght. After Blue Heron, Nawakwa and Amangamek Wipit fell to the growing strenght of Chanco. The final game had Chanco and Nentego paired for the championship. After a game filled "thrills" and "chills" Chanco ended with her first defeat.

Saturday nite was very busy with the show of "Bicentennial Spots" and then the "Feast". Chanco's delicious peanuts and ham were enjoyed by delegates through the section. Later that night, it was reported that a Chanco delegate awoke suddenly while sleeping during the patch auction and made a bid on a patch. No one bided higher so he was force to buy the patch.

Sunday begun on a solemn note as Chanco delegates attended chappell. Later Sunday there was the annual section business meeting. The race for Section Chief was so close that it went down to the line with the last lodge's votes. Dale McCann of Blue Heron was elected the new Section Chief.

After the business meeting lunch was served and was followed by the closing ceremony.

The journey home was used by those not driving as a chance to catch up on the little sleep that had taken place during the weeken
