HONOR • CONFIDENCE • INTEGRITY • LEADERSHIP

CONFIDENCE

Through Scouting programs, young people are introduced to fun and exciting new experiences that help them learn about our world. Just as important, they are challenged to find new strengths within themselves. With each success, their confidence, self reliance and sense of worth become stronger. That strength helps them to make the right choices as they are confronted with difficult challenges.

ACHIEVEMENT

We see fitness as a promise made to one's self. Scouts learn to develop both physically and mentally, which helps them to become healthy adults. Through our programs, Scouts grow physically, mentally and morally. They develop a strong sense of well being and the determination to achieve their goals.

PRINCIPLES

There is a sense of pride in knowing that every week in every neighborhood, caring, dedicated volunteers gather to teach our youth the virtues of the Scout Law. More than 80% of men who were involved in Scouting agree that the values they learned as youths continue to be an important part of everyday life.

TEAMWORK

Scouts learn the value of teamwork through successful experiences that teach them to trust themselves and others. Through small groups, such as dens and patrols, Scouts develop interpersonal skills and gain self-confidence to achieve goals. Not only do they learn practical skills in leadership, they also discover what it is like to work well with others and develop an appreciation and respect for our environment. Scouts learn lessons that last a lifetime.

Letter from Council President

Friends of Scouting,

For over a century, the Boy Scouts of America has been in the business of molding young people into strong, moral citizens and leaders. The Scout Oath begins with "On my honor..." The concept of personal integrity is certainly not new, but is something that our young people do not hear often enough as they are developing their own decision making skills.

Your support gives us the resources we need to provide character-building programs for young people in our community at a time when they are confronted with so many negative influences.

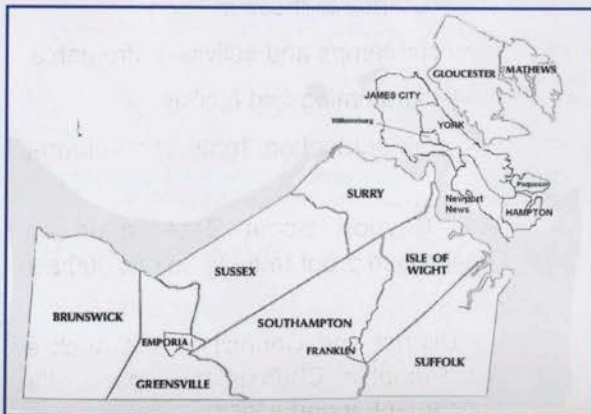

Scouting in our community needs your help again this year. Traditional sources of funding for Scouting continue to decrease as the demand for Scouting programs continues to increase. As a volunteer I see the value of the Scouting program and the positive impacts the programing has on local youth.

Please know how much we appreciate your support of the Colonial Virginia Council - Boy Scouts of America.

Jeff Wassmer
Council President
