Role of the adviser in the Order. Each chapter or lodge officer or committee chairman has an appointed adviser. Officers in the Order are elected by the youth members, and the officers appoint committee chairmen. Advisers are appointed by the Scout executive, usually for the same term as the officers. The Scout executive, as the lodge's Supreme Chief of the Fire, is the highest adviser in the lodge.

Each adviser in the Order provides support for the program to which he has been assigned. It is inappropriate for an adviser to run the program, although he should always be involved. It is the adviser's task to make sure that the young men succeed. This includes training, transportation, and staying constantly involved and informed.

The proper role of an adviser is the same as the proper role of a Scoutmaster. An adviser works almost completely behind the scenes. Although the Order's program is more complex than a troop's, the leaders in the Order are older and more experienced. Yet, they still benefit from sound guidance and enthusiastic support. Watching outstanding leaders succeed is one of the most enjoyable parts of being an adviser.

Role of the nonadviser Scouter. As a Scouter without an adviser appointment, your main responsibility in Scouting lies outside the Order of the Arrow. Your main duty within the Order is to support its program in your Scouting position.

The above is a section of the Order of the Arrow Handbook that has been reproduced and had some editorial underlining made. Please read all very carefully and then decide "How well have I done the role of adviser that I accepted?"

The youth deserve only the best!!

PLEASE NOTE

In order to be considered an active member in Chanc Lodge #483 all must have paid both 1991 Lodge dues and be registered with the Old Dominion Area Council as an active scout or scouter. This is a requirement to attend any Lodge functions. This requirement must be adhered to by all since the council will no longer provide HEALTH INSURANCE for anyone who is not properly registered.
